

Your Parents, Your Grandparents

You can learn a lot about money from your parents and grandparents. Ask one of them these questions. When you finish, ask another one these same questions.

1. How did you get money as a child?
2. How did you spend money as a child?
3. What did you buy when you were a child?
4. How did you save money when you were a child?
5. What money mistakes did you make when you were a child?
6. What's the most important tip you've learned about using money well?
